DR. SHAILENDRA PANDYA

RENOWNED CHILD RIGHTS ACTIVIST

Former Member Rajasthan State Commission for Protection of Child Rights and the Director of Gayatri Seva Sansthan (GSS). Based in Udaipur, Rajasthan, this organization has been instrumental in bringing about a big change in society since 1986.

Coming from a humble family background in the Udaipur district Dr. Shailendra Pandya pursued engineering in Computer Science and landed a job in an MNC. But he was not satisfied with the way things were moving for him and wanted to serve society and engage in some work that helped him look closely at the woes of the downtrodden sections of society. He eventually joined an organization providing free education to the tribal children of Southern Rajasthan. However, hungry for knowledge Dr. Pandya didn't want to restrict his learning here and wanted to explore more. That's when he completed a Master's in Social work, PGDRM, and further went on to complete his Ph. D. in the field of child protection.

Building Gayatri Seva Sansthan

Gayatri Seva Sansthan (GSS) is a not-for-profit institution registered by the Government of India. The organization was founded in the year 1986 with the approach of the Gram Swaraj. This concept is widely shared by the Father of the Nation Mahatama Gandhi.

Gayatri Seva Sansthan (GSS) is a not-for-profit institution registered by the Government of India. The organization was founded in the year 1986 with the approach of the Gram Swaraj. This concept is widely shared by the Father of the Nation Mahatama Gandhi. The Organization's vision is to promote peace and prosperity in the most deprived sections of society. The organization is working with the mission to make continuous, comparative, and Leading a life of difference integrated sustainable efforts in realizing the vision. Primarily the organization has 3 major verticals as the scope of work, which are Human & Institutional Development, Livelihood Enhancement, and Natural Resource Management thus promoting the integrated model of development. GSS is currently imparting free education to 9120 tribal out-of-school children through a total of 304 Free education centers.

In the last decade, more than 10,000 tribal children were linked to mainstream education through the efforts of GSS. The institute is also working to safeguard the lives of children by working in the field of child protection and taking action to mitigate serious crimes like child labour. In this sequence, so far, 4637 children have been freed from child labor by the institute to lead a safe life.

Holding Swami Vivekananda as his idol, Dr. Pandya says that his biggest learning from Swami is thinking about the weakest man and women when you're about to take action. He also draws inspiration from Kailash Satyarthi because of the commendable work he has done in the field of child protection despite the challenges coming his way and has won the Noble Peace Prize for India in the field of Child Protection. While working Dr. Pandya eyes an problems straight in the eye and tries to understand it from the perspective of the people facing them.
